GLENDALE

The Glendale cotton gin will start the first of the week, probably on Monday. Definite announcement will be made as soon as the gin is actually started. This gin is known as the Universal Fibre gin, and the people in charge state that they can return to the grower, cleaner cotton, cleaner seed. That they can get more lint off the seed than any other gin in the valley, and that they will pay more for the seed cotton than any other company in operation. This certainly ought to be an inducement for all the cotton growers with a reasonable radius of Glendale to bring their cotton to the Glendale gin for ginning.

The Charles Stauffer building is rapidly nearing completion. The walls are all up, the roof is on, and the plastering will be completed the middle of the week. This fine modern building completely finishes up the block between First Avenue and Grand Avenue on Washington street.

Glendale is to have a band, perhaps two bands, if the present plans carry. The old Glendale band is to be reorganized under the leadership of George Cox. It is understood that many of the old musicians are already practicing hard, and that they have already had several rehearsals.
Also Prof. J. C. Kelson, formerly of the Western Conservatory of Music at Wichita, Kansas, is here for the purpose of organizing a band. The professor is an old handmaster, having trained several well known bands in the past. One of these bands, it is understood, is now touring Europe.
Professor Kelson will hold the first organization meeting at the town hall in Glendale Monday night.

The George W. Protzman residence is rapidly assuming proportions.
When completed it will be one of the handsomest residences in Glendale.
At Dr. J. M. Pearson's residence Friday night, the Glendale Tennis club was organized. About fifteen members form the charter members.

ship, with prospects of several more to be added. The club has built a court near Dr. Pearson's residence and it is being put into fine condition. The back stops are already up.
An assessment of $2.50 per member was levied to cover the cost of the court. Harry Marshall was elected treasurer, and will receive all money at the bank.

Mrs. J. G. Hammel returned from Kingman, last week where she attended the Methodist conference.
A dance was given by a number of the young people Saturday night at the Woman's club. A good at-had.
